Wing's Farina Crackers.

Mr. WING is the only manufacturer of FARINA CRACKERS in the United States. No other person has a knowledge of the process by which this kind of matrix is successfully worked, producing such an extremely light and nourishing substance as WING'S FARINA CRACKERS.
Since WING'S CRACKERS have become so popular, one or two individuals have been trying to sell the ordinary kind of Crackers, which they make, by offering them as being like Wing's

Crackers, which they make by offering them as being the Wing's Farina, and have even copied portions of Mr. Wing's advertise-ment to induce the belief that their Crackers were the same as Wing's. Such attempts at deception should be understood by all. Errors of this character, however, are usually corrected on bebe properly exposed.

Mr WING manufactures nothing but FARINA CRACKERS,

a all of which his name is s'amped, and these are the on tackers made out saining the true qualifies of Farina. Wing's Farina Crackers may be hid at whole sale only of A. N. THOMPSON & Co., Nos. 221 and 225 Fulton st, New York.

Read this from the N. Y. EVANGELIST: "They are characterized by an epigrammatic force, a beauty of illustration and rare felicity of expression, that render them eminently worthy of preservation. They show the preacher to be at once an orator and a poet. And when it is considered that these happy thoughts were commonly unpremeditated, occurring only at the moment, the spontaneous outpourings of his discourse, they show the variety and richness of the speaker's mind, per haps more than could any studied and elaborate performances."

LIFE THOUGHTS. STRONG TESTIMONY

[Daily North American and Gazette, Philadelphia, Pa-They are, as they must be, characteristic of their author cinitilations from his brilliant mind upon almost every religious opic, set forth by striking illustrations. They are the gems, the est things of Beecher, and will be sought for eagerly by his housands of admirers." [Daily Argus, Portland, Me.

"No one can take it up to read without wishing to go through it; while it may be perused time and again with pleasure and profit. The first selection opens a magnificent garden, and dis-plays before you a whole parterre of flowers. You feel as if you must at least walk through it, inhaling its fragance and delighting our eye with its thousand beauties. The book should be in the ands of all." [Democrat, Rochester, N. Y.

"It is well calculated, by its easy divisions into page-passages and thumb-nail spothegms, to while away the hour and to set us a thirking of the 'topics of the times;' stimulating the mind weary of commonplace, and amusing the fancy with its quaint conceits, its bullet-like shots of illustration, and the never flagging vivacity of the style. It is a most convenient volume to take up

"The Christian will read it for the religious thought, hope and consolation upon every page, and the "secular reader for the beautiful imagery, antithesis, and epigrammatic piquancy, as profusely scattered through the volume as gems in a royal casket | Delly Dispatch, Pittsburgh, Pean.

"These fleeting gems of thought fell from one of the brightner, freest and boidest of minds in its extempore pulpit utterances. If not so piercing, subtile and condensed as the famous Thoughts more imaginative and of a wider and mit liberal sweep of daring originality." [Christian Register, Boston.

"There is much common sense, racily expressed, in numerous assages of this book " [Forney's Press Philadelphia. passages of this book " "It will, therefore, be acceptable to those readers who are in favor of first impressions, and a bold manner of expressing them." [Daily Demotrat, St. Louis, Mo.
